Search "Rules"

How the Search works..

There are 2 types of search - keyword and typeahead. Keyword is when you do not choose anything from the suggestions in the input box. Typeahead is when you choose one of the suggestions from the drop down.

When you search for 'design', then our search engine looks for that word anywhere in these fields: Full name, Get listed (Job title, Location), Experience page (Industry, Education, Languages, Skills, Sector Experience, Clients, Trade Associations, Awards), Intro text, Town, Position (from /profile/manage) and name of the company you work for.

If the word 'design' is used in any one of them, even as part of longer word, such as 'designer' or 'abcdefghdesigneroprst', that person shows up in result.

If you enter multiple words, e.g. "design London" then search looks for both words and it only returns results with both of them. It's 'design' AND 'London'. This does not mean they will be next to each other eg. John does great design and is based in London will be returned.

You can search for exact word combination by wrapping the query in quotes, e.g. "Web designer" will find Web+designer as a term joined together.

If you select suggestion from the type-ahead (drop down when you search), then this set strict search - e.g. if you select "Job title > Graphic designer" from typeahead, then only users with "Graphic designer" position in their "Get Listed" data will show up in the results. - it searches no other fields.

To do keyword searches then you need to not choose anything from the typeahead.
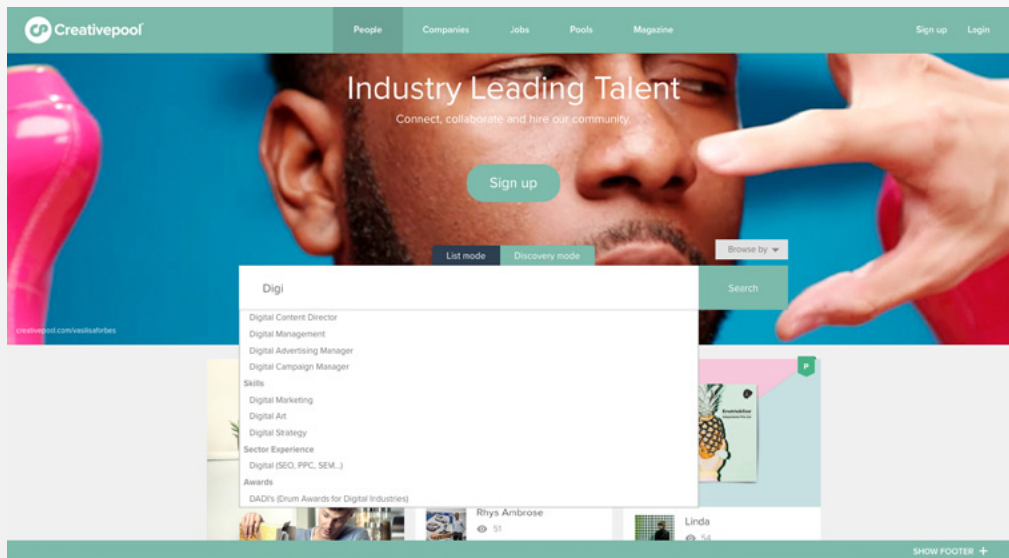

All data is refreshed daily at 04:00 AM. Therefore if somebody signs up at 16:15, s/he won't be in search until 04:00 AM next day

Search works with UTF8 characters - 'Oskar Lübeck' and 'Oskar Lubeck' will return the same results.
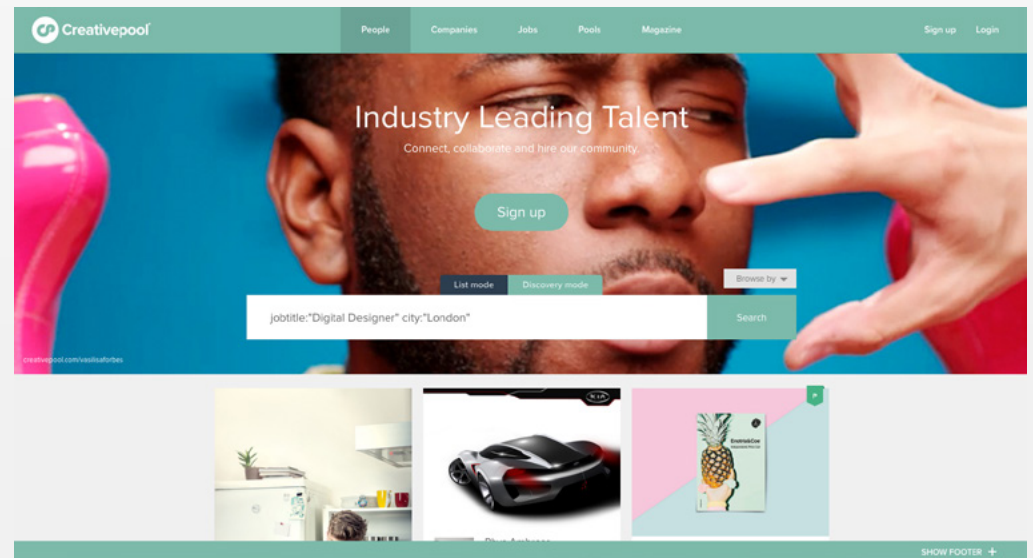

Hidden profiles are excluded from search

How To Search

Start typing and the Typeahead will suggest the relevant search term for you.
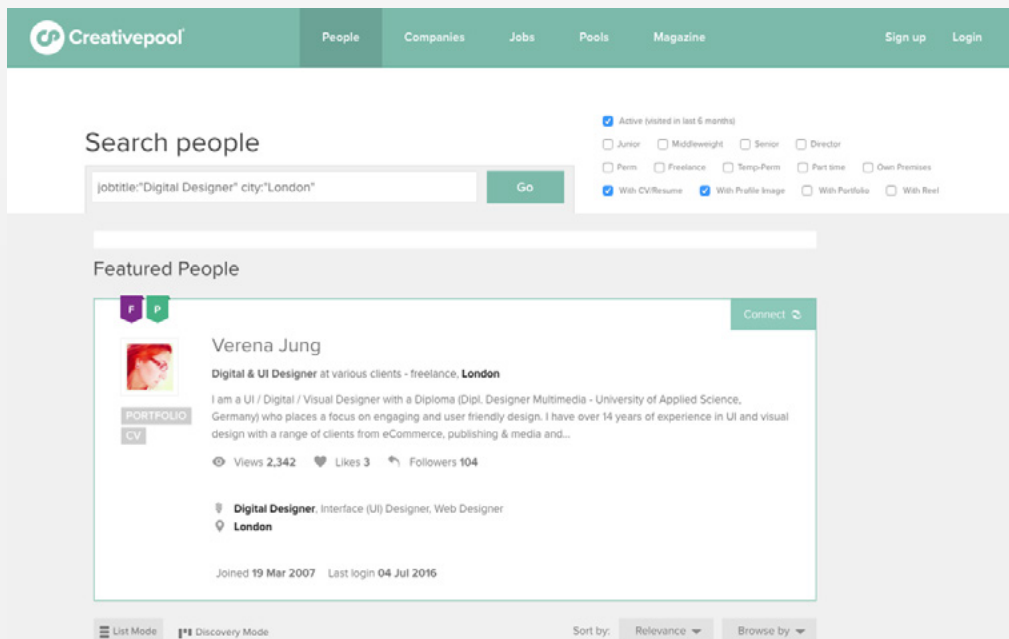

Once you have typed in your job title and location click SEARCH.
